#1 – Reduced Training Costs

On average, companies spent $986 per learner in 2018. If you have 50 employees that need training, the annual cost would be almost $50,000

82% of companies have their employees complete at least some of their mandatory compliance training online; 28% do it entirely online

The average cost for a company to hire a Training and Development manager to be on staff can range from $70-100,000 a year
